Conversations about Racism - Dialogue to Action

Conversations about Racism is a dynamic, program that moves us from talk to meaningful action! You’ve had conversations about racism before, but this program dives into the real issues and root causes and evolves into action that directly addresses systemic and institutional racism. Now more than ever, we need to listen to each other, break down the walls between us, and channel our emotions into meaningful action for sustainable change! ** Please know while we do our best to fill each session there may be a session that does not have enough participants to meet. If this is the case we will contact you as soon as possible to allow you the option of choosing an alternative session.
