

WORLDWIDE CLIMATE JUSTICE TEACH-IN

Climate Teach-In at Mill Creek

Wednesday, March 30th
7:00-8:30 pm

As Unitarian Universalists, we accept the scientific fact that global warming is real and the role that humans play in it. But can we do anything about it?

Join members of Mill Creek and our local community as we join over 1,000 colleges, universities, high schools, K-8 schools, and faith groups worldwide to engage in a one-day Teach-In on climate solutions and justice.

The Climate Teach-In will be offered in-person in our sanctuary as well as on Zoom, and will feature a panel presentation and discussion on ways we all can make a difference. Please invite your friends and family.

Our panelists are Beth Chajes of the Citizens Climate Lobby, Onage Cunningham of Lincoln University, Dustyn Thompson from the Sierra Club, and Peggy Smith from the Climate Change and Energy Committee of the League of Women Voters of Delaware. Our moderator is Reverend Robert Broesler.

The Worldwide Teach-In is a project of the Graduate Programs in Sustainability at Bard College in New York, USA, in conjunction with partners worldwide and the Open Society University Network

LEARN MORE about the Teach-In here

Climate Solutions 101, a 6-part video series, is available for viewing as a starting point. You can watch the videos in any order you wish. (Viewing the entire series takes about 90 minutes total.) Access the series by clicking the button below.

Climate Solutions 101 - view it here

Feel free to reach out to Mill Creek member Jamie Kegerise with questions about the Teach-In using the button below.

I have questions about the Teach-In